Learn by Doing

Experiential Learning with Real Consequences:

Empower students to make decisions, experience the outcomes of their choices, and develop critical thinking and decision-making skills through hands-on business challenges.

Create an engaging and interactive learning environment that sparks creativity and passion.

Fun & Inspiring!

Transform Classrooms into Boardrooms with REVAS!

Launch a Virtual Business - Students pick an industry, and create their own company—just like real entrepreneurs.

Make Real-World Business Decisions - From pricing to staffing to marketing, students manage every aspect of their virtual business in a competitive market.

Compete, Adapt & Strategize - Students go head-to-head in a dynamic simulation where every decision has consequences.

Reflect, Learn & Grow - After each round, students analyze results, uncover teachable moments, and build the skills they'll need in the real world.

Transform Your Classroom

Turn Decisions into Learning Moments

Elevate traditional teaching with dynamic simulations where students make choices and experience outcomes. Lessons connect directly to curriculum goals, boosting engagement and retention.

Provide an understanding of financial dynamics and encourage analytical skills by simulating real business scenarios.

I appreciate that REVAS allows the students to make poor decisions and see the consequences. Other programs have fewer opportunities for students to spend themselves into debt, which I feel really created a great teachable moment. Since it starts with the restaurant not being open, I find that it is particularly effective of capturing the full entrepreneurial experience. Students were very impressed at the depth of the decision options, and enjoyed getting to handle a full scope of the HR process (job post, resume review, job offer, training, appraisal, etc.)
